The Bed and Breakfast Club – October 2010 Newsletter

Go batty in London during the run up to Halloween!

If you are in search of ghosts and ghouls to get you shaking in your boots then a visit to The Tower of London is a must. Many an execution has taken place within these walls from Guy Fawkes to Anne Boleyn whose ghosts are said to dwell within the tower, haunting all those that are brave enough to enter.

You can get up close and personal to some ghostly Londoners at the London Ghost Festival which features special events across the city including tours of allegedly haunted sites.

Or freak yourself out at the London Dungeon. The Halloween at the London Dungeon show takes place from Friday 15th October - Sunday 31st October 2010.

If this sounds too terrifying, have a break at the Podium Restaurant at the London Hilton on Park Lane. They are offering a limited edition Halloween Chocolate Afternoon Tea from 18th to 31st October 2010. Delights will include an almond paste pumpkin, miniature toffee apples, dark chocolate witch hat, and a blood orange chocolate bat.

Finally, sooth away the spooks of the day in one of our frighteningly stylish bed and breakfasts!

Knightsbridge, SW1

A charismatic gem of a mews house in one of London's most exclusive and central locations. The home is a stone's throw away from some of London's most popular attractions: Hyde Park, Buckingham Palace, Brompton Oratory and of course Harrods, so one of the greatest advantages of this property is location, location, location!

New Cross, SE14

New Cross is well served by public transport. The nearest station, New Cross Gate, is around 10 minutes' walk from the house. From here the overland train takes 5 minutes to London Bridge, a perfect hopping off point, and travel to the West End takes half an hour. There are also good bus routes from the house to the City and the West End. more>>

Putney Bridge, SW6

A beautifully furnished town house, situated in a quiet residential area, ideally located just off the fashionable New Kings Road. The immediate locality is known for its bustling lifestyle, shops, restaurants and cafes and local transport links are excellent with plenty of buses to the West End, and Putney Bridge tube station, on the District line, only 3 minutes walk away.
